

Leaders in Industrial Wood Products

Universal Forest Products®

Not a sideline. Our only line.

Products & Services

Softwoods:

Shop & moulding grades
Pallet & crating stock
Cut-to-size components
Boards & dimension lumber
Bedframes & components

Hardwoods:

Northern Appalachian Southern
Pallet/Skid Grade

Panels:

Plywood
OSB
HDO/MDO
Particleboard
Melamine
Cut-to-size

Your product is not listed? No problem. We'll source, engineer, and manufacture to your exact specifications — on time — every time.

As a unit of a North American lumber components powerhouse, the Industrial Division of Universal Forest Products, Inc., brings a rare breadth of experience and resources to an industry typically served by niche-specific suppliers. Our solutions to industrial needs often contain materials, engineering expertise, purchasing advantages, and other capabilities others simply can't offer.

Whatever the solution, Universal's Industrial Division can develop it by providing design and manufacturing expertise and by using Universal's strong purchasing resources and efficiencies.

Customers of our Industrial Division benefit from the strengths of a world-wide manufacturer of superior lumber products. Universal Forest Products, Inc., is a national distributor of lumber and related wood products; the world's largest producer of pressure treated lumber; and a dominant supplier of roof trusses and building components for factory manufactured homes. From more than 40 plants in 37 North American cities, Universal continually expands its product lines and services in the building materials and industrial lumber marketplace.

Universal's Industrial Division Offers:

- Full-time sales representatives who devote 100% of their time to industrial sales and products every day of the week.
- A dedicated purchasing staff with solid sources across the globe.
- An experienced manufacturing staff.
- A support staff dedicated to industrial products.
- A responsive, efficient, on-time distribution system.

In a world where industrial products are too often a sideline, isn't it better to know there's a company that considers them their only line? That's the Universal Industrial Division. Exclusively dedicated to intelligent, cost-saving solutions in industrial sales and products.

For more information, call us today.

Universal Forest Products®

www.ufpi.com